Legal Deposit

Duties of the National Library of Finland include collecting Finnish publications in cooperation with the publishing industry, and making it available for researchers and other users. This is based on the Act on Collecting and Preserving Cultural Materials (1433/2007).

The collecting includes printed publications, sound and other recordings, digital publications, and other online material.
Depositors:

- the manufacturer, if the publication or recording is manufactured in Finland

- the publisher, if the publication or recording is manufactured abroad but intended for distribution in Finland

- the importer, if the publisher has no office in Finland

- for online materials, the online publisher is responsible for legal deposit. Aggregators, online bookstores and online music stores are also regarded as online publishers.
Materials submitted (with number of copies):

- books, magazines, publication series, maps, and sheet music (6 copies)
- ephemera (2 copies)
- newspapers (1 copy)
- sound recordings, video games, and other recordings (1 copy)
- electronic books, magazines, maps, music, etc. is deposited at http://luovutuslomake.kansalliskirjasto.fi.

A more detailed list of examples of materials is available on our website.
Collected materials are preserved - according to the Act on Collecting and Preserving Cultural Materials - in the National Library and in other legal deposit libraries, where they are available for use for researchers and other users.

The materials are described in the Finnish National Bibliography, Fennica, and in the National Discography of Finland, Viola, when applicable. Annual statistics (for e.g. Statistics Finland and Unesco) on all Finnish publications and recordings are based on the number of legal deposit copies received.

CONTACT INFORMATION:

The National Library of Finland
Legal Deposit Office
PO Box 15
00014 University of Helsinki

vapaakappale@helsinki.fi

phone 02941 44321, information (weekdays 9 a.m. to 12 noon)

Webform for submitting electronic publications:
http://luovutuslomake.kansalliskirjasto.fi